The narrative then states that [REDACTED] was placed into custody and taken to the [REDACTED] District for processing. The narrative continues and states that while in processing, [REDACTED] refused to take off his belt and with his free right hand he grabbed Sgt. [REDACTED]'s left shoulder pulling Sgt. [REDACTED] towards him. The narrative then states that Sgt. [REDACTED] struck [REDACTED] about the stomach with a forearm and held [REDACTED] down while Officer [REDACTED] took off [REDACTED]'s belt. The narrative states that a Tactical Response Report was completed by Sgt. [REDACTED] for his use of force against [REDACTED]. The report lists officers involved as Officer [REDACTED], Sgt. [REDACTED], and Officer [REDACTED].³³

A Tactical Response Report ("TRR") completed by Sgt. [REDACTED] documents his use of force against [REDACTED]. The TRR lists the date of the incident as February 14th, 2016 and the time as 8:55 pm. The TRR lists the address of the occurrence as [REDACTED]. The TRR lists the subject as [REDACTED]. The TRR lists [REDACTED]'s actions as "Did Not Follow Verbal Direction," "Stiffened (Dead Weight)," and "Grabbed Officer's Arm." Sgt. [REDACTED]'s actions are listed as "Member Presence," "Verbal Commands," and "Forearm to Chest." The TRR also contains a statement from [REDACTED] regarding the use of force which states, "The offender stated, not verbatim, that he was unhappy over the arrest by the police after the restaurant had him arrested." Lt. [REDACTED] marked that Sgt. [REDACTED]'s actions were in compliance with the Department's procedures and directives, but Log #1079242 was generated because of [REDACTED]'s complaints.³⁴

d. Additional Evidence

IPRA attempted to speak with the manager of ██████'s Steakhouse at the time of the incident and the complaining witness and victim on ██████'s arrest report, ██████, and obtain his notes from the date of the alleged incident. IPRA was informed by the ██████'s Steakhouse manager ██████ that as of October 19, 2016, ██████ was no longer employed at ██████ Steakhouse, and no paperwork was able to be found regarding the incident involving ██████.

VI. LEGAL STANDARD

For each Allegation COPA must make one of the following findings:

1. Sustained - where it is determined the allegation is supported by a preponderance of the evidence;
2. Not Sustained - where it is determined there is insufficient evidence to prove the allegations by a preponderance of the evidence;
3. Unfounded - where it is determined by clear and convincing evidence that an allegation is false or not factual; or
4. Exonerated - where it is determined by clear and convincing evidence that the conduct described in the allegation occurred, but it is lawful and proper.

A preponderance of evidence can be described as evidence indicating that it is more likely than not that the conduct occurred and violated Department policy. See Avery v. State Farm Mutual Automobile Insurance Co., 216 Ill. 2d 100, 191 (2005), (a proposition is proved by a preponderance of the evidence when it has found to be more probably true than not). If the evidence gathered in an investigation establishes that it is more likely that the misconduct occurred, even if by a narrow margin, then the preponderance of the evidence standard is met.

Clear and convincing evidence is a higher standard than a preponderance of the evidence but lower than the "beyond-a-reasonable doubt" standard required to convict a person of a criminal offense. See e.g., People v. Coan, 2016 IL App (2d) 151036 (2016). Clear and Convincing can be defined as a "degree of proof, which, considering all the evidence in the case, produces the firm and abiding belief that it is highly probable that the proposition . . . is true." Id. at ¶ 28.

VII. ANALYSIS

█████ alleged that on February 14, 2016, at approximately 8:55 pm, he was struck about the face by Sgt. █████. █████ further alleged that Sgt. █████ and Officer █████ referred to him as a “fuckin’ asshole,” and that while he was in the █████ District processing area, he was told by Officer █████, “Why don’t you go fucking hang yourself.” COPA’s burden of proof is based on the preponderance of the evidence standard.

In his statement to IPRA, █████ alleged that both Sgt. █████ and Officer █████ called him a “fuckin’ asshole” during his arrest. Sgt. █████ and Officer █████ both denied making that statement to █████, and ultimately there is not enough evidence to establish whether the officers made that statement to █████. As such, COPA recommends a finding of Not Sustained for Allegation #1 for Sgt. █████ and Allegation #1 for Officer █████.

According to General Order (“GO”) 03-02-01, the Chicago Police Department utilizes a Use of Force Model to provide guidance on the appropriate amount of force to be used to affect a lawful purpose.³⁶ The model may progress from member presence to the application of deadly force. The primary objective of the use of force is to ensure control of a subject with the reasonable force necessary based on the totality of the circumstances. Department members must escalate or de-escalate the amount of force which is reasonably necessary to overcome the subject’s resistance and to gain control over the subject.

GO 03-02-01 and GO 03-02-02 identify three categories of an assailant: A subject whose actions are aggressively offensive without weapons, a subject whose actions will likely cause physical injury with or without a deadly weapon, and a subject whose actions will likely cause death or serious physical injuries. GO 03-02-02 defines an assailant as “a subject who is using or threatening the imminent use of force against himself/herself or another person.”

According to GO 03-02-01, direct mechanical techniques are forceful, concentrated striking movements such as punching and kicking, or focused pressure strikes and pressures. Direct mechanical techniques may be used only against assailants.

In addition to CPD’s General Orders, the authorization to use of force is codified under 720 ILCS 5/7-5 (1986). The pertinent part of the statute states that:

“[a] peace officer, or any person whom he has summoned or directed to assist him, need not retreat or desist from efforts to make a lawful arrest because of resistance or threatened resistance to the arrest. He is justified in the use of any force which he reasonably believes to be necessary to effect the arrest and of any force which he reasonably believes to be necessary to defend himself or another from bodily harm while making the arrest. However, he is justified in using force likely to cause death or great bodily harm only when he reasonably believes that such force is necessary to prevent death or great bodily harm to himself or such other person...”

Finally, determinations regarding the potential use of excessive force - deadly or not - in the course of an arrest, investigatory stop, or other “seizure” are properly analyzed under the Fourth Amendment's objective reasonableness standard. The question is whether the officers' actions are ‘objectively reasonable’ in light of the facts and circumstances confronting them, without regard to their underlying intent or motivation. Graham v. Connor, 490 U.S. 386, 397 (1989); see Estate of Phillips v. City of Milwaukee, 123 F.3d 586, 592 (7th Cir. 2003). Moreover, the reasonableness calculation “must embody allowance for the fact that police officers are often forced to make split-second judgments—in circumstances that are tense, uncertain, and rapidly evolving—about the amount of force that is necessary in a particular situation.” Graham, at 396–97.

The question is whether the officer’s actions are objectively reasonable in light of the facts and circumstances confronting them, without regard to their underlying intent or motivation. Graham v. Connor, 490 U.S. 386, 397 (1989); see Estate of Phillips v. City of Milwaukee, 123 F.3d 586, 592 (7th Cir. 2003). The following factors are instructive in making the determination of whether an officer’s use of force is reasonable: (1) “the severity of the crime at issue;” (2) “whether the suspect poses an immediate threat to the safety of the officers or others;” and (3) “whether he is actively resisting arrest or attempting to evade arrest by flight.” Graham, 490 U.S. at 396 (citing Tennessee v. Garner, 471 U.S. 1, 8-9 (1985)). The analysis of the reasonableness of an officer’s actions must be grounded in the perspective of “a reasonable officer on the scene, rather than with the 20/20 vision of hindsight” and “allow for the fact that police officers are often forced to make split-second judgments – in circumstances that are tense, uncertain, and rapidly evolving – about the amount of force that is necessary in a particular situation.” Plumhoff v. Rickard, 134 S. Ct. 2012 (2014) (internal quotations and citation omitted). The analysis must take into account the totality of the circumstances confronting the officer, rather than just one or two factors. Plumhoff, 134 S. Ct. at 2020; see also Scott v. Edinburg, 346 F.3d 752, 756 (7th Cir. 2003)

While [REDACTED] stated he was struck about the face by Sgt. [REDACTED] both Officer [REDACTED] and Sgt. [REDACTED] denied that allegation. Both Officer [REDACTED] and Sgt. [REDACTED] stated that Sgt. [REDACTED] pushed [REDACTED]’s upper chest and held him against the cell wall with his forearm. The officers stated Sgt. [REDACTED] used force only after [REDACTED] grabbed Sgt. [REDACTED] and pulled him close.³⁷ The officers’ statements were further corroborated by Sgt. [REDACTED]’s TRR, which states Sgt. [REDACTED] used his forearm against [REDACTED]’s chest. Officer [REDACTED] also stated that [REDACTED] appeared very flush and had bloodshot eyes and reddish skin. [REDACTED] provided IPRA with photos of his alleged injuries, however, it is not clear how [REDACTED] sustained those injuries, or if it was a result of Officer [REDACTED] or Sgt. [REDACTED]’s actions. COPA finds there is a lack of corroborative material evidence to sustain [REDACTED]’s allegation, and as such finds Allegation #2 for Sgt. [REDACTED] is Not Sustained.

As misconduct may have occurred and Officer [REDACTED] did not report any incident of misconduct, IPRA brought an allegation for failing to report the possible misconduct that occurred on February 14, 2016. Officer [REDACTED] stated in his statement to IPRA that he did not believe Sgt. [REDACTED]'s action were in any way excessive, and thus did not believe they were in violation of CPD policy. Moreover, even if Officer [REDACTED] witnessed Sgt. [REDACTED] strike [REDACTED], as mentioned previously, that would not have risen to the level of misconduct, and therefore Officer [REDACTED] would not have had to report it. As such, COPA finds Allegation # 2 for Officer [REDACTED] be Unfounded.

³⁷ Per GO-03-02-01, [REDACTED] would be defined by as an assailant, as his action, in grabbing Sgt. [REDACTED], was aggressively offensive, or likely to cause injury to Sgt. [REDACTED]. Assuming arguendo, as [REDACTED] was an assailant in that moment, if Sgt. [REDACTED] used force such as punches or elbow strikes, it would have been within policy as codified by GO-03-02-01.

[REDACTED] further alleged that an officer may have told him "Why don't you go fuckin' hang yourself" though he could not recall which officer did. Officer [REDACTED] stated he did not recall if any officers stated that to [REDACTED]. Sgt. [REDACTED] also stated neither he nor Officer [REDACTED] ever said that statement to [REDACTED]. Officer [REDACTED] who was completing the Arrest Report for [REDACTED]'s arrest, stated he never heard Officer [REDACTED] or Sgt. [REDACTED] make that statement to [REDACTED]. As [REDACTED] stated an officer may have stated that, and was not completely positive, coupled with the fact that three officers stated they did not recall that statement being made or that the statement was definitely not made, COPA finds there to be a lack of material corroborative evidence, and as such Allegation #3 for Officer [REDACTED] be Not Sustained.

VIII. CONCLUSION
